MEMORANDUM FOR: (See Attached List of Addressees)

SUBJECT : Economic Intelligence Statistical Handbook, 1966

1. The attached is the latest issuance of our Economic Intelligence Statistical Handbook. I believe you will find it a useful source of facts and figures, and a valuable aid in interpreting published economic intelligence. Unclassified sources have been used wherever possible to maximize its usefulness.

2. The principal purpose of the Handbook is to provide essential economic statistics on the Communist countries, but it also contains a great deal of data on the Free World, including comparative data. A number of new tables and graphics have been added this year, particularly on economic and military aid.

3. Additional copies of the Handbook are available should you require them.
